500 U. S. Planes Strike In Biggest Single Assault Of War In Korea

Five Big Red Power Plants Knocked Out

Targets Located On South Side Of Yalu River

SEOUL, June 23.—(P)—Five hundred U. S. Navy, Air Force and Marine planes Monday knocked out five big hydro-electric plants servicing all of North Korea and parts of Manchuria in the biggest single air raid of the Korean war.

All of the targets were on the Korean side of the Yalu River, which divides Korea and Manchuria, Navy headquarters in Tokyo said.

A Navy spokesman said the targets were "top priority" and preliminary reports indicated the "primary and secondary targets were thoroughly smashed."

Air Force fighters bombers from dozens of land bases and Navy planes from the Boxer, Philippines Sea and Princeton pounded the dams and generator plants. Other planes from the carrier Bonhomme Richard flew diversionary strikes in the same area to confuse Red air defenses.

THE Air Force said the 90-minute raid demolished the Suhoi hydroelectric plant, which supplies power to Mukden and other industrial areas in Manchuria, plus four other power plants in North Korea. Col. John D. Nottingham of Houston, Tex., Fifth Air Force public information officer, said carrier planes and land-based Marine and Air Force craft swooped down on the power plants from all directions with rockets and high explosive armor-piercing bombs.

The big air strike followed by one day raids by powerful Allied columns of 1,000 to possibly more than 3,000 men into Chinese lines in Western Korea. The attacks topped any UN foray into Red territory since last fall.

UN Screens North Korean Civilians

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, June 23.—(P)—The United Nations Command Monday screened 4,000 North Korean civilian internees on whether they wished to return to their Communist homeland in event of an armistice.

The screening took place without incident in a tent inside a compound. Plans are to screen about 4,000 daily until 45,000 have been questioned.

Roy Stires of the Hoppes Road, had his two fields of corn plowed Saturday and didn't do a bit of it.

Roy has been seriously ill for the past few days and hasn't been able to get his corn plowed. His son, Rodney, has been taking care of the farm.

Saturday, seven of his friends and neighbors showed up on his farm with tractors ready to do the work. They plowed the two fields of corn, a total of 27 acres.

The men who helped were Clarence Taylor, Hugh Campbell, Gene Bush, Jesse Streitenberger, Joe Campbell, Max Bush and Marion Yeoman and Rodney Stires.

Ronnie Whitaker, 824 E. Market Street, brought to this office an unusually large specimen of the measuring or looping worms which he found in a cherry tree in the back yard at his home.

There are many different types of the measuring worm, which is the caterpillar or larva of the Geometrid moth.

The moths produced by the worms in their transformation, are of medium size and unusually inconspicuous in color.

The measuring worms feed on vegetation and their natural prey is birds, which use large numbers of the worms in rearing their young birds.

The "loopers" have two pairs of prolegs with which they move forward in a looping movement.

These worms rarely crawl, but nearly always move about with the looping movement.

Taft Doubts He Can Control Credentials Committee

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(P)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio said Monday he isn't at all certain his followers will have a majority on the vital credentials committee of the Republican National Convention.

The credentials group will recommend the action to be taken on the seating of contested delegates—now one of the principal

Reds Protest UN Policy On Civilians

MUNSAN, Korea, June 23.—(P)—United Nations truce negotiators told the Communists Monday that 27,000 Korean civilians will be freed from UN prison camps starting next month. The Reds protested immediately, and violently.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il accused the Allies of disposing of war prisoners "unilaterally." He said the Communists never have recognized UN reclassification of war prisoners.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison said most of the prisoners to be released were swept into Allied internment camps early in the war and later were found to be South Korean civilians.

The negotiators made no progress toward solving the last key problem barring a Korean armistice—exchange of prisoners.

French Memorial For Louis Braille

PARIS, June 23.—(P)—Louis Braille, who made it possible for the blind to read, was given a place among France's honored dead in the Pantheon Sunday, a century after his death.

A procession of the blind with white canes marched behind his coffin on its way to the high-domed church where many of France's famed citizens rest.

Kidnaping Stirs New Crisis Along German Frontier

HELMSTEDT, Germany, June 23.—(P)—British soldiers backed up reinforced West German police at a disputed frontier point near here Monday in defiance of Communist keep-away orders following the kidnaping of 43 West German workmen.

The workmen, seized Sunday morning by Russian-led East German people's police as the West-erners dismantled a railroad spur, were released without explanation Monday. Ten other workers had fled the seizure.

The kidnaping occurred at the little hamlet of Hohnsleben, a few miles from Helmstedt, in a 500-yard-deep pocket of territory which was part of the Soviet zone state of Saxon-Anhalt but was given to West Germany when the issues between Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in their battle for the GOP presidential nomination.

Each state delegation to the Chicago convention names two members of the credentials group. While some of his backers have claimed Taft will have a majority of the votes in more than half of the states, the Ohioan said that doesn't mean the committee will be stacked in his favor.

"There are all shades of political opinion represented among the credentials members who already have been chosen," Taft told a reporter. "I don't think anyone can say that the committee will be controlled."

CONTESTS over delegations don't get to the credentials group until after the Republican National Committee has ruled on them. Then, the credentials members are restricted by convention rules from taking any new testimony. They can only pass on evidence brought before the national group.

A majority of national committee members are generally regarded as favoring Taft's candidacy. This, plus the naming of Taft supporters to key positions in the nominating convention, has led Eisenhower's backers to charge a "steamroller" is being prepared against them.

Eisenhower himself charged Friday in a Saturday address at Dallas, Tex., that the Taftites had stolen Lone Star State delegates from his camp.

The general didn't name Taft but there was no question he referred to the fight between his supporters and the senator's for the Texas delegation's 38 votes.

"In this case," Eisenhower said, "the rustlers stole the Texas birthright instead of Texas steers."

Taft forces hit back in a statement Sunday denying there was any delegate-stealing and likening the protests from the Eisenhower camp to a prize fight manager's yelling, "We wuz robbed."

The Eisenhower camp has said it will carry to the convention floor a fight over the Texas delegation.

East-West zonal border was established.

Following Sunday's incident, armed People's Police warned the West German border police to stay out of the pocket, but the Western police brought up reinforcements and, with a detail of 13 British soldiers, took up their regular patrol positions at the East-West frontier.

The Communists then made no effort to halt the Western patrols. The kidnaped workers said after their release they had not been mistreated but had been exhaustively questioned by Russian officers and the East German police.

The men said the Reds claimed which was part of the Soviet zone state of Saxon-Anhalt but was given to West Germany when the

Absentees Factor In Controls Vote

Vital House Decision Scheduled For Wednesday Or Thursday

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(P)—Absenteeism appeared likely to be a decisive factor in crucial House voting this week on price control legislation.

It may determine whether last week's tentative vote virtually ending all economic controls after June 30 will be set aside or be made final.

Administration leaders were hopeful they could persuade more Democrats to be on hand—and remain on hand—Wednesday and Thursday when the decisive voting is due.

Only 214 of the 432 House members were present last Friday afternoon when the House tentatively adopted an amendment to end controls on everything not allocated or rationed at the consumer level.

PRICE Administrator Ellis Arnall told a late Saturday news conference the amendment would make the controls law a completely unworkable "monstrosity." He said, if it becomes law, he would recommend complete scrapping of price controls.

Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam said lifting of controls would cause prices on consumer goods to soar so high current prices would look like bargains.

The House also voted, subject to final action this week, to strip the Wage Stabilization Board of its power to handle wage disputes and do away with the present equal representation of labor, management and the public on the board.

GOP Race Roars Toward Climax

By The Associated Press

A front-running Democrat called it a "bar-room slugfest." A leading Republican warned too much bickering can lose the election for the party. But the GOP battle for delegates roared on Monday as noisily as ever.

It even left physical violence in its wake in one outlying sector. Fighting broke out in Puerto Rico Sunday as Republicans chose two rival three-member delegations to the national convention in Chicago.

The delegations are uncommitted but one reportedly favors Sen. Robert A. Taft and the other Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidential nomination.

POLICE quelled the island disturbance, but the question of which delegation will be seated is just one more to be fought out in Chicago—like the question of Texas' hotly disputed delegation, among others.

And time is running out. Election of Republican delegates ends Monday with the choosing of 10 in Illinois to complete the state's slate of 60. Taft was expected to widen his lead there. Of the 50 chosen, he has 49 to Eisenhower's one.

Democrats name 22 delegates Monday in Indiana, 48 others in various states later in the week for their convention opening July 21.

There's no such time-lag for the Republicans. Their convention starts in two weeks, with a terrific row over contested delegates shaping up beforehand.

Taft forces struck back in newspaper ads today at Eisenhower's Dallas, Tex., charge the Ohioan's backers stole Texas' 38 convention votes as brazenly as cattle rustlers.

"The Eisenhower managers are screaming 'We wuz robbed' because they know they have lost the fight," the Taft advertisement said. It added that the exclusion of Eisenhower backers from delegate-picking sessions was justified because the general's people actually were Democrats.

EISENHOWER, before flying from Texas back to Denver, made a new effort to puncture the Taft claim he is a Truman candidate. He flatly denied at a news conference the President ever offered to back him for the 1952 Democratic presidential nomination.

As for running on a third party ticket—some Texans have talked of this, should Eisenhower lose in Chicago—the general said he would have no part of such a move in 1952. He did not commit himself on other years.

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, his party's leader in the Senate, sounded a note of warning: Republicans can lose this year, he said, "if we enter the campaign bickering or divided."

It was Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, leading the delegate count for the Democratic presidential nomination, who called the GOP strife a bar-room slugfest.

The telecast will originate from Denver from 8 to 8:15 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Jilted Wife Wishes Husband Luck In Marriage Quest

ST. ALBANS, W. Va., June 23.—(P)—Mrs. Georgie Garrett wishes her former husband lots of luck on his wife-hunting junket to Indiana.

She said she wonders if he really has $28,000.

Jessie L. Garrett, who is 49, recently advertised for a wife in his hometown newspaper at Rockport, Ind. He said he wanted an intellectual woman, 35 to 45 and not too fat, to share his two sons and the $28,000 he had made after moving to West Virginia.

His divorced wife, a 32-year-old blonde, lives on the edge of St. Albans.

for the last of his interviews with women who answered the advertisement.

He was in Columbus, Ind., Friday checking on two prospects there. He said he also had some interviews in Danville and Jeffersonville. He was in Rockport earlier.

Garrett said he had more than 1,000 replies to his offer.

A dozen applicants even showed up at the Scott Depot, W. Va., post office, which Garrett gave as his mailing address although it is seven miles from his home here.

"They were right good-looking, too, some of them," said a man who works around the post office.

Claims Union Assured No T-H Injunction

Calls Inland Steel Leader Liar On 'Deal' Charge

GARY, Ind., June 23.—(P)—CIO steelworker boss Philip Murray said Sunday that President Truman assured him last December "you need have no fear" of a Taft-Hartley injunction if the union would postpone its scheduled Jan. 1 strike.

And he called Inland Steel President Clarence Randall a "liar" for saying that Murray and Truman had "made a deal."

Murray addressed an audience of 7,500 at a steelworkers rally in this community of 130,000. About 27,000 persons in Gary and adjoining East Chicago earn their livelihood in the steel mills.

The steelworkers' head said President Truman told him:

"If on will voluntarily agree to a suspension of the strike I believe you need have no fear of the courts imposing on your members the so-called Taft-Hartley injunction procedure."

THE STRIKE was postponed, government seizure followed, and steelworkers stayed on the job until after adverse court decisions on the seizure.

Steelworkers have been on strike three weeks, since the U. S. Supreme Court ruled government seizure of the industry illegal. President Truman has not started Taft-Hartley Act injunction proceedings to stop it. A resolution urging him to do so has passed the Senate.

Before an overflow audience including steelworkers, politicians, mayors of the two hard-hit steel towns and Lt. Gov. John Watkins of Indiana, the president of the steelworkers union:

1. Accused major steel producers of a "conspiracy" to prolong the steel strike.

2. Criticized Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for voicing opinions on the steel strike when "he could hardly know the facts." Murray in particular objected to this remark he attributed to the candidate for the Republican presidential nomination: "Why don't they use the Taft-Hartley Law?"

3. Attacked the industry's reluctance to give the union's 650,000 striking members a union shop.

4. SAID IT would be "unjust to expect the steelworkers to undergo an 80-day strike injunction under the Taft-Hartley law since they have already delayed the original strike 153 days on the request of the President."

5. Did not say what the union's position would be if the Taft-Hartley Act were invoked.

6. Predicted the steelworkers will win the strike regardless of "what kind of suppressive weapon may be used against you."

The bald, ruddy leader was bitter in his denunciation of Randall. He accused the steel executive of "deliberately lying" in saying Murray and Truman "made a deal," Murray said he "had more respect for the office of President than try to do such a thing."

Further, said Murray, when Randall later denied making such a statement, "I called him a liar again."

Murray said the union and management have resolved the major part of their fight over a wage increase.

The steelworkers' demand for a union shop, under which all workers would be compelled to join the union, now is a principal obstacle to settlement.

He said the industry claims it is a "matter of principle not to grant a union shop, but U. S. Steel alone has 300,000 members of other unions under union shop."

He specifically mentioned union shop contracts with AFL seamen on U. S. Steel ships, with railroad unions and building trades unions.

Referring only to U. S. and Inland Steel companies by name, Murray said, "A coalition of six major steel companies which produce 75 per cent of steel tonnage in the country" is blocking settlement of the strike.

Several steel companies are willing to negotiate contracts, he said, but are prevented by fear of economic reprisal.

Slippery Roads Cause Wrecks

One Injured In Accidents

Slippery road conditions were the cause of two accidents Sunday afternoon on state highways near Washington C. H.

One person was injured in the two accidents.

Mrs. Alberta Key was the only casualty in a family of four from Kenova, W. Va., whose car was demolished when it slid off the road into a tree about four miles south of the city on route 35 at 6 P. M. Sunday.

She was taken in the Parrett ambulance to Memorial Hospital to be treated for a deep laceration of the forehead.

Hawley Key, 27, her husband, and the driver of the car, and two small children escaped injury despite the fact that the car spun around, went on its side into the ditch, burst into flame; after it crashed into the tree.

The car left the road on a curve during the Sunday rain storm.

IN THE OTHER accident, a car driven by Sheng To Chu, 30, a Japanese student attending Ohio State University, skidded off the CCC Highway just beyond the Memorial Hospital and crashed into a fence on the property of T. B. McCoy.

Although 40 feet of fence was torn down, there was only slight damage to the car and the driver escaped uninjured.

The accident, which happened at 5:30 P. M. Sunday, was caused when the car got off on the berm. In trying to get back on the road, the driver lost control of the car which then swung across the slippery surface off into the fence on the left hand side of the road.

State Highway Patrolman Max Bricks investigated both accidents.

No charges were brought in either case.

The deer, a doe, was reported on the Hugh Rodgers farm immediately north of Good Hope Friday and on Saturday the same animal, apparently, was on the R. B. McCoy farm three miles south east of Good Hope.

Other residents of the community saw the doe and were surprised at the ease with which it leaped wire fences in going from field to field.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, June 23—The Korean War is two years old Wednesday. No one any more in a responsible position is offering a quick solution for ending it. Nor is anyone predicting the outcome.

The invasion of South Korea by the North Korean Communists began like a stone dropped in a quiet pool. The ripples are still widening. And Russia, which watched like a fat fox, may have outfoxed itself. And maybe not.

For a year the Korean War has been less than full-scale, although men have died daily. In this year of no grand ground offensives both sides have pecked away, holding positions, while their truce teams talked of an armistice.

No armistice is in sight. For the past three months in this year of the epic talkathon, the conversations have stalled on one issue: exchange of prisoners. Yet neither side seems anxious to stop talking.

NEITHER wants responsibility for what follows the end of talking: Resumption of large scale war.

In this past year the American Air Force has worked steadily behind the enemy lines to prevent a buildup. But the Chinese have managed to build. They are credited now with being stronger than before the talks began.

This country and its allies talk confidently of being able to stop anything the Chinese throw at them. They have used the year to rebuild forces, too. They do not talk of crushing the Chinese.

They might be able to do so if they were willing to pay the price: far greater casualties; perhaps years of fighting in the heart of Asia, which would drain them; and perhaps war with Russia and start of World War III if Russia moved in to help the Chinese openly.

Crushing China couldn't be done without far more men and supplies than the Allies have been willing to put into Korea, since they need them for defense against Russia in Europe, in case Russia attacks there.

So Russia has the Allies guessing, and has had from the beginning of the Korean shooting. But the shooting started far more than the Russians probably bargained for.

KOREA WAS a starting point for the U. S. and UN. The arms program began in earnest. So did the Atlantic Pact. So did the rearming of Europe, the idea of a European army, the end of the war with Germany and the decision to let Germany join the European army.

Japan was allowed full sovereignty again, with freedom to rearm, while the U. S. was allowed to use Japan as a military base. The U. S. poured money and supplies

Islands Readied For Bomb Test

Atomic Explosion Planned By Britain

By GORDON TAIT
SYDNEY, Australia—(P)—Britain's first test of her atomic weapon may be made at or near the barren Monte Bello Islands off lonely Northwest Australia.

The date of the test is as much an official secret as the site, but the popular guess here is September.

There are several pointers towards the group as the likely site for the test, which Prime Minister Winston Churchill announced would be held in Australia this year. Among them are:

Two Royal Navy landing ships, the Narvik and the Zeebrugge, have headed north recently, carrying 100 engineers and equipment for the test from England. An Australian water lighter and a food lighter went with them. There is no worthwhile fresh water at the Monte Bello Islands.

AN AUSTRALIAN boom ship has been buoying channels approaching the Monte Bello Islands. The Australian Navy minesweeper Mildura is believed to have been taking stores to the islands.

The Department of Civil Aviation has issued regulations prohibiting anyone from carrying a camera while flying over a large area of western Australia.

Civil airline pilots have also been advised that flying in this area is restricted. Every plane in this area must report its position every 20 minutes. No charter flights will be allowed over the area without special permission.

During World War II there was a big airstrip at Learmouth, popularly known to American airmen as "Potshot." This may still be in fair order and would be convenient for the test.

THE MONTE BELLO Islands are in the sub-tropics, and normally are uninhabited. Before World War II Japanese pearl divers used them as a base.

The island group covers 75 square miles, consists of three main islands and hundreds of islets. The main islands are Hermite, Trimouille, and North-West.

Hermite is about 6 miles long and 2 miles wide. It is rocky with limestone and coarse sandstone into the war against communism in Indochina.

In short, two years ago Russia faced a completely divided and helpless Europe, and a defenseless Asia. Europe still is far from ready for a war with Russia but it has made progress in two years. And Communism in Asia hasn't tried any new adventures in two years.

Human Parcel Post System To Be Discontinued in Britain

By ALVIN STEINKOPF
LONDON—(P)—It's no longer possible for Britain for a man to make a package of himself and be sent home by parcel post.

The post office has announced that it is discontinuing a little-known service—the delivery of human beings by mail.

Not many realized it, but it has been possible for a person to walk into a post office, buy a lot of stamps, and have himself dispatched to some destination in the United Kingdom. If equipped with a special delivery stamp the mailman had to escort him right to his doorstep and ring twice.

“The service, unfortunately, has had to be discontinued,” David Gammans, assistant postmaster general, reported to Parliament recently.

NOT MANY made use of the curious service, but a number of persons lost in strange places have found it helpful. The last man known to have mailed himself used the postal service to outwit the British army.

On a visit in 1940 to the island of Guernsey in the English Channel the man found, when he set out for home, that soldiers had taken all the places in the only boat. The soldiers' orders said they had priority over all other passengers. But the resourceful gentleman knew the regulations, and was aware that under the circumstances mail had priority over soldiers. So he attached stamps to himself and the post office had to put him aboard.

The whole thing started in 1907 when a woman sent a baby across Britain by post. She was criticized but postal regulations permitted the sending of living creatures.

THEN SOME school boys mailed a package just because the post office had sent it to him.

But the real headache came when a man wanting to emigrate asked to be sent to Canada by parcel post. The appropriate number of stamps for an emigrant of his left was cheaper than steamship ticket. The post office got out of accepting that package by discovering that the service covered only the British Isles.

Effect Of Music On Children To Be Studied

What is the effect of emotional reaction to music by the average adult? Are children affected in a different way?

Can music be made to help school children in their studies and if so, what kind of music is best suited to this purpose? What can music be made to do to the normal person?

There are some who say that a lot of our present music produces exasperation. Others contend that it can produce either exhilaration or depression of spirit for reasons which few can define.

An interesting study is to be started in Teachers College at Columbia University to try to find how music does, or can be made to influence educational progress and the behaviour of normal children as individuals or in groups. Third grade classes from the public schools will be the subject of the experiment.

At a time of intense research in the realm of physics and chemistry, when the populace is warned against becoming too mechanistic, here is the beginning of research which may prove equally scientific in the domain of the human spirit.

This study will not be concerned with the influence of music on disturbed personalities. What it will seek to begin to ascertain—the year of study is not expected to be in any sense conclusive—is the constructive values music can have on these youngsters singly and in groups. Can it in the case of children not yet in their teens promote enjoyment and at the same time be a stimulus to study?

How is it possible to break down the seeming indifference to music of some children, who regard it as merely an academic task? How is it possible to overcome the tendency of some musically gifted pupils to do inferior work in other studies? Is it because they are so enamored of music they do not think anything else worth while? If so, can this attitude of mind be changed?

Out of such a study, continued over a longer period than a year, might evolve data of value to pedagogics and to child psychology.

Women Beyond 40

Mary Bard, a New York doctor's wife, has taken up the cause of what she terms feminine 4-Fs—fat, frustrated, forlorn and forty. She brings cheer to all women who try to turn back the clock after they pass their fortieth birthdays, and become by turns frantic, furious, foggy, foolish, forlorn and simply feminine.

Herself, now 41, Mrs. Bard espouses the philosophy that it is best to meet the passing birthdays with fortitude and make the most of them.

Mrs. Bard subscribes to the theory that life begins at 40, even for women. She cites the case of Gloria Swanson, who made a sensational film comeback after her 50th year. Greer Garson, with her flaming red hair and flowing beauty, seems to have suffered little from the passing years.

And, finally, there's Ann Delfield, a beauty expert with a figure like a 16-year-old and an unlined skin, who recently told an audience she was 70, when everybody was guessing her age at less than half that figure.

Whoever set the deadline for women's beauty and charm at 40 years was ill advised. Nor should any member of the fair sex accept the ultimatum. Many women have the inner spark which keeps them forever young. Even as grandmothers they offer real competition for attention, and find the passing years adding to their glamor and attractiveness.

The ancient law of supply and demand had its faults, but they were minor compared to government meddling

Pat and Ike, They Look Alike, Too

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, June 23 — (AP)—You've heard all the stories about Pat and Mike.

Well, this one's about Pat and Ike. They look alike.

His strong facial resemblance to Gen. "Ike" Eisenhower has been one long comedy of errors to Relman (Pat) Morin, Pulitzer prize-winning reporter for The Associated Press.

It began nine years ago when Pat was first mistaken for Ike. And it has gone on intermittently ever since, as Pat has spent a good part of those years reporting the varied activities of Ike in war and peace.

"I don't see the resemblance myself," said Pat, "but other people do."

The other people include Pat's own wife.

If they are not mistaking Pat for Ike when they are apart, they mistake Pat for Ike's younger brother who the two are at the same event. Pat is tall, balding and 44. Ike is tall, balding and 62.

The first instance of this "look-alike" trouble cost Pat the annoyance of a king.

"It happened in a French village outside Bizerte during the tour of the North African battle-front made by the late King George VI in 1943," Pat recalled.

"I was among a group of eight or 10 reporters assigned to travel in his motorcade. Several of us were in the motor car immediately behind the King's."

"While King George was being greeted by the village officials, a Frenchman in the crowd looked in our car, spotted me, and cried: 'Look, there's Gen. Eisenhower, too.'"

"Part of the crowd began surging excitedly around us. All I could do was scurry down in the car, trying to look as small as possible. I kept saying in French, 'No, no, you are mistaken.'"

The king, who was a grand guy, naturally was annoyed at the disturbance. He thought some of us were clowning around during the welcoming ceremony. He spun around and we got the full blast of a royal frown.

"Later his aides put him straight."

But minor versions of the same thing have been going on ever since.

"What gets me is that people who mistake me for Ike get mad at me when they discover I am not their hero," Pat said.

Last winter, for example, while Ike was still in Europe and before he had indicated he was politically available, a man edged up to Pat at a Manhattan cocktail party.

"I didn't know you were home yet, general," he whispered.

When Pat told him he was mistaken, the man assumed a share-the-secret expression and whispered again:

"Well, naturally I suppose you want to keep it as quiet as possible, and you can count on me." Pat has covered some of Eisenhower's recent campaigning, and has had to spend considerable time assuring the general's fans that he was not in a position to sign Ike's autograph. In Harrisburg an Ike partisan, stuck his head in Pat's car and said, pointing ahead to Ike's car:

"How do you think your brother is going to do?"

When Pat disclaimed any relationship, the man sneered, believing he was being kidded:

"Oh, so you think you're too good for the rest of the family?"

There is a CBS newsman in Washington named Ted Kopp who bears a striking resemblance to Sen. Robert A. Taft.

"Maybe Ted and I should go around arm-in-arm from now on—and really confuse people," said Pat.

By George Sokolsky

can do is switch your radio on to talk to each other and tell them where to stop and what to do. 'And, for goodness' sake, Joe stop shooting. This is Ike.' (Laughter.)"

There is more of the same which I omit without distortion.

At Detroit, on June 14, 1952, General Eisenhower returned to the subject. He first repeated much of the above. He added:

"What was the great point in attacking it and capturing it (Berlin), particularly as our political bosses had already told us that the line we must occupy was 200 miles to the west. After we had captured the line of the Elbe and captured Leipzig, we had to retreat 150 miles from there to get back where our bosses had already told us we must go."

"And, finally... Marshal Zhukov—a slightly different type of Russian—told me that he used twenty-two division, 2,500 guns and suffered about 10,000 casualties taking this destroyed city of Berlin. Now, none of these brave men of 1932 have yet offered to go out and pick out the 10,000 American mothers whose sons should have made the sacrifice to capture a worthless objective."

This is the Eisenhower story with its essential contradiction. Between 1945 and 1952, a series of events have occurred involving us in a "cold war" in Europe, a fighting in Asia, and a remobilization of forces in this country, including a conscript army of 3,500,000. We have also been forced to spend about $40,000,000,000 on European aid, including the subsidy of NATO.

Therefore, the question does arise as to whether Eisenhower's judgment has been justified by the course of events and history. Copyright 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Diet and Health Effect of Hormones As People Get Older

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Why do people grow old? Around this question has grown up a whole new field of medicine, known as geriatrics, the treatment of the aged.

The sex hormones we have learned, play leading roles in the drama of aging. For some time now, doctors have been giving extra hormones to men and women passing through the change of life, especially those in whom this change has brought various upsets and complications. These hormones, produced by the sex glands, are chiefly responsible for the body developments associated with maturity.

Definite Changes Noted

It has also been found that a deficiency of male or female hormones, or both, plays an important role in aging, both of the sex organs and the body tissues in general.

In old age, definite changes are seen not only in the endocrine gland—those which give off hormones—but in practically all the organs and tissues. They show a lack of growth, a loss in the amount of water they contain, and an increased growth of hormones often after these changes.

The male hormone, known as testosterone, is particularly important in helping the body use proteins to build muscles and other tissues. Striking changes in the tissues may follow extra supplies of this hormone, resulting in improved vigor, muscular strength and well-being. The effect is to modify the aging process at its very beginning.

Calcium Loss

Weak bones due to a loss of calcium is another frequent complication of aging. This is sometimes helped greatly with combinations of male and female hormones.

Hormones have also produced marked effects on the skin. Female hormones applied to the skin of elderly women can improve its elastic properties and help prevent an aged, haggard appearance of the skin. Male hormones will increase beard growth and prevent many skin diseases that occur in aged men.

As important as it is to improve the body condition in the aged, the hormones show their most striking benefits in improving the mental outlook and increasing the drive. Extra hormones have led to an increased optimism and a return of intellectual power. The person feels as if several years had been lifted from his age.

Treatment Starts Early

Usually, more can be done with this sort of treatment when a person is just beginning to age than when he is very old. It is usually considered that signs of aging begin shortly after forty, and it is believed that hormone treatment, when necessary, should start with the onset of this process.

If course, treatment with these preparations should be carried out only under the doctor's direction and it is always well for men to have an examination of the prostate gland made prior to starting treatment to be sure that an existing condition will not be aggravated by the treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. Q.: What is the treatment for worms?

Answer: There are many types of worms and the treatment depends upon the type of worms present.

As long as General Eisenhower was safeguarded by an exalted position, the discussion of the Berlin question was academic. Today, since he is a candidate, this question looms large.

It is increasingly more difficult to explain why we are now involved in all the complications concerning Germany, including the need for the costly Berlin airlift, the division of Germany into East and West, the division of Berlin into zones without an adequate entrance and exit.

Some students attribute our troubles in Korea to the strengthening of the Russian position at the Elbe river. Korea has cost us about 120,000 casualties including 20,000 dead.

Errors of judgment can be made with the best of intentions and may even have some justification. Thus far, these are General Eisenhower's explanations:

1. At a meeting of the Association of the Bar of the city of New York, on March 3, 1949, he said: "... Your question seems to imply that the decision not to march into Berlin was a political decision. On the contrary, there is only one person in the world responsible for that decision. That was I. There was no one who interfered with me in the slightest way.

"Until the day I die, there is one thing that I will testify to in favor of or on the side of Mr. Roosevelt's skill in handling a country at war. When he put his men into the field, he did not interfere with them as long as he left them there."

Then Eisenhower described the situation at that moment:

"The Russians had attacked on January 12th, and that attack, you will recall, had carried them clear across the Oder. They had a bridgehead west of the Oder, and strong forces within thirty miles of Berlin. They told us that coincident with our leaping forward from the Rhine they were ready to attack again. So I sent around to Moscow the details of my plan. I saw no possible chance of going 300 miles, crossing the Elbe at the end of 250 miles, a big river, getting in and surrounding Berlin, with the Russians having to attack from thirty miles off."

"Now, another great problem arose: When two friendly forces are moving toward each other directly to crush like a nutcracker an enemy in between, you get a very serious problem. Today your fighter bombers range out 200 miles ahead of you. They are whipping and knocking down everything they see in your path."

"As those two friendly forces come together... the danger of lunging into a battle between friends is very, very great, and that is multiplied when you realize that you cannot speak the other's language at all. All you

Standing beside the 1914 Buick (lower photo) owned and driven by Elza Mercer of Bloomingburg is Paul J. Leister, the Pure Oil branch manager here.

Almost like a dream out of the past, five antique automobiles paraded around the Court House square Saturday afternoon while powerful modern streamlined cars swished almost silently around them among huge trucks roaring by.

The parade was one of the features of the "Name an Old Car, Win a New Car" contest sponsored by the Pure Oil Co. here.

In it were a 1906 model Brush owned by Ulric Allen of Milledgeville, a 1914 Buick owned by Elza Mercer of Bloomingburg, a 1921 Packard owned by The Meriwether Motor Co. of Washington, D. C., a 1914 Model T Ford owned by E. H. Mills and a 1924 Studebaker owned by Milford Barker, both of Washington, D. C.

The parade started at the "Point" of Columbus Avenue and Market Street. It moved west on Market Street behind a police escort to Fayette and then turned south to Court Street and circled the Court House square before parking along the curb on Court Street. There, the old cars drew the attention of hundreds of passers-by until 7:30 P. M. Many of the younger generations who stopped to look, had never seen anything like them in their lives.

Paul J. Leister, the Pure Oil Co. branch manager here, described the parade as a preview of what's to come next year during the Sesquicentennial celebration here.

Here for the parade was K. E. Bergen, sales promotion and advertising manager of the Pure Oil Co., from Columbus. He said the contest was "going great" all over the country and that there had been more than 100,000 entries from Chicago alone.

Pictures of the 12 old cars to be named in the contest have been appearing in advertisements in the Record-Herald. They also appear on the entry blanks available at the Pure Oil Co. service stations.

Cow Butchered Right on Farm

Animal Was Owned By Robert Terhune

A valuable Guernsey cow was knocked in the head with a hammer and butchered on the Robert Terhune farm just over the line in Madison County, Saturday night. The animal was valued at $400.

The cow had been led into a field and killed. An attempt was made to skin her, but failing in this, the men chopped off the hind quarters and hauled the meat away in an automobile.

Tracks of the automobile were the only clues picked up.

Sheriff Orland Hays was notified and when he found the butchering had been done in Madison County, he summoned Sheriff Bidwell of Madison County. The two officers made a thorough investigation.

The affair has aroused much indignation in the community where it was committed.

Officers are continuing their investigation and believe that the men who butchered the cow reside not far from the scene.

A short time ago two hogs were butchered near Mt. Sterling and the hind quarters taken.

More Prison Facilities Needed In Ohio, Gov. Lausche Asserts

MARION, June 23 — Gov. Frank J. Lausche has declared the need for enlarged prison facilities in Ohio is imperative.

The governor, speaking at groundbreaking ceremonies at the new Marion Training School, reviewed plans for expanding the state's penal system.

"If our present plans are put into full effect, Ohio will have one of the best penal systems in the United States," he declared.

The new Marion Training School will house 750 youths between 16 and 25 years of age. It is the latest step in a move to relieve congestion at Ohio Penitentiary. The next legislature will be asked to appropriate 3½ million dollars to double the size of the Marion school so that eventually it will take care of 1,500 inmates.

Gov. Lausche said the establishment of new and modern structures has not kept pace with the growth of the state.

"As a result of many years of neglect," he declared, "there has been terrible over-crowding at the Ohio Penitentiary. At the present time approximately 4,300 prisoners are actually housed in the penitentiary."

Stranger Lifts Car To Release Boy

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 23 — A husky stranger stepped from a stunned crowd and lifted the right front wheel of an automobile which was crushing a 5-year-old boy.

After performing his amazing display of strength, he slipped back into the awestruck crowd before his identity could be learned.

Donald Beaudron tumbled from the car at nearby Fort Screven and rolled under the wheel before his father could bring the car to a stop. The wheel was resting on the boy's head, neck and shoulders.

The young man lifted the wheel while Beaudron backed the car off his son. The child was reported in fair condition Saturday at a Savannah Hospital.

ECONOMY WINDOW

As Low As $12 Not Installed

ury's Truman-dictated handling of recent bond issues and management of the public debt can create the inflationary atmosphere Truman condemns and will blame on Congress in planned "whistle stop" stumping.

As every street-corner economist knows now, the basic and monolithic force underlying peak prices and taxes is Washington's seemingly insatiable need for money, money, money.

Since the government can "create" money any time it pleases, it is responsible for the national economy on two counts. How this monetary authority is used — or misused — determines the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of price, wage, rent and material controls.

PUZZLE — The Administration's calculated refusal to try to mop up many billions of idle and explosive bank and institutional cash, which can start a skyrocketing price movement at any time, is a puzzle to all financial experts.

Their advice on financing current and forthcoming deficits, including Federal Reserve advisory groups, has been neglected by Truman.

He prefers to listen to radical members of Secretary Snyder's Keynes-minded technical staff, and to such apostles of free spending and financing as Leon H. Keyserling, chairman of the White House economic council.

Keyserling, who never managed a business or met a payroll, sees no threat to the nation's financial solidity in heavy government expenditures and a large, unwieldy public debt.

TROUBLES — The current handling of this problem, according to worried bankers, can have only three effects, largely political. It will stimulate business activity on the basis of easy credit through the election and the balance of Truman's term.

It will leave such difficult questions as inflation and a possible increase of the public debt limit to the next president. It will make him the heir to all the evils flowing from high-wide-and-hand-some spending of the last twenty years.

In short, Truman is handing to his successor the same sort of unhappy legacy that Calvin Coolidge bequeathed to Herbert Hoover, and for similar personal and political motives. Truman wants no money troubles of serious proportions on his time.

LIQUID — Although the public debt has hit the dizzy peak of $259 billion—$275 billion is the present statutory limit—it is the composition as well as the amount of this national mortgage which converts it into an inflationary atom bomb.

Never before has this mountain of debt been in such a liquid and spendable form as it is today. It can create a devastating economic landslide at the slightest touch. Here is why:

Eighty per cent of this huge sum consists of securities which can be cashed by the holders at any time. That sum provides a checking rather than a savings account. There is always a temptation to spend it.

By contrast, in 1937 only 55 per cent of the public debt was in liquid and immediately redeemable form, the balance five and ten years away from maturity.

FLOP — The Treasury tried to improve this situation a few weeks ago, but the effort was feeble. Incidentally, bankers credit Secretary Snyder with a desire to manage government finances conservatively, but say that he is usually overruled by the Truman-Keyserling combination.

Snyder sought to mop up about $11 billion of loose cash by issuing non-marketable bonds that paid a 2½ per cent interest. Had the issue been successful, he could have used it again to whittle down the mountain of public debt money overhanging the market. But the attempt was a flop, for purchases amounted to less than $500,000,000.

Had the Treasury offered a 3 per cent return on the non-marketable securities, as experienced bankers recommended, it is believed that banks, insurance companies, investment firms and trust funds would have been glad to subscribe, thus removing many inflationary billions from the money stream.

REASONS — But the monetary "liberals" had their way. As they have persistently pointed out to Truman, who knows next to nothing about these questions, brisk business based on a plentiful reservoir of credit and an accessible supply of dollars must be maintained for politico-economic reasons.

This exhibition of manipulation of federal financing for political purposes, which is difficult for the layman to detect, underlies Capitol Hill proposals for creation of a permanent committee to conduct a closeup study of monetary policies and activities. But the suggestion is bitterly opposed at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. as an "invasion of presidential prerogatives."

Miss Clara Story Becomes Bride of Gifford S. Glascoe

Mrs. Gifford Stone Glascoe

St. Andrew's Episcopal Church was the setting on Saturday afternoon, June 21, for the late afternoon wedding of Miss Clara Putnam Story, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Frost Story of the Columbus Road and Mr. Gifford Stone Glascoe of Columbus, only son of Mrs. Albert Stone Glascoe of this city and the late Mr. Glascoe.

The double ring service was read by the Rev. Sanford Chapdu Lindsey, as the hands of the clock approached five, before an altar graced with tall brass vases of white daisies and blue and white delphinium and gypsophalia, flanked on either side with tall eucharistic candles and other decorations in the church were two seven-branch candelabra entwined with fern. Huckleberry foliage in artistic arrangements with gypsophalia adding an airy touch and white satin bows marked the family pews, and the white satin kneeling cushions were used by the bride's parents at her wedding.

Miss Ann Story, sister of the bride was her maid of honor and only attendant. Dr. Samuel Sauer, was best man for the bridegroom with Master William Trimmer, as acolyte and seating the guests were Mr. John Brown of Chicago, Ill., Mr. Robert Greeno of New York City, Mr. Frank Baker and Mr. Robert Brubaker.

The wedding was preceded by a half hour nuptial music presented by Mr. Clarence Barger, organist, and his selections included "Adagio"—Franck "Cantabile"—Beethoven—"Prelude in A Flat, Opus 28 No. 7"—Chopin, "Andante from the Grand Piece Symphonized"—by Franck, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring"—Franck, "Meditation on Brother James", Air-Harold Darke, "Larghetto" from the tenth organ concerto—Handel, Barnby's Wedding Hymn, "O, Perfect Love" the procession—by Lohengrin and the recessional by Mendelssohn.

The lovely brunette bride given in marriage by her father was most attractive in her waltz length gown of white nylon tulle and Chantilly lace fashioned with an extended lace bodice which curved gracefully over the hips, a deep yoke of filmy tulle outlined with applied designs of lace and a lace peplum over the full tulle skirt.

The tiered shoulder length veil of matching tulle was held in place with a brief lace cloche edged with tufts of tulle held in place with bands of tiny pearls and rhinestones with a cluster of orange blossoms worn by her mother on her wedding veil and her lace slippers matched her gown.

She wore as her only jewelry a strand of pearls which was the gift of the bridegroom and her bouquet was white roses, gypsophalia and Stephanotis with white satin streamers knotted with Stephanotis.

The maid of honor's gown also waltz length was fashioned of pearl grey cotton face over layers of blue organza creating a blue effect, with a portrait neckline in the short sleeved bodice, brief sleeves and a full skirt with matching lace cloche, and linen slippers.

Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of yellow roses, blue delphinium and gypsophalia. A reception for one-hundred fifty guests was given at the Washington Country Club immediately following the wedding and the bride's mother greeted the guests in a white and fuchsia print gown with black and white accessories and her corsage was a fuchsia orchid.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Willard A. Story of Chillicothe, was wearing pastel blue crepe dress with a short jacket, silver grey hat with pink flower trim and a corsage of pink roses.

The mantle in the club lounge was banked with huckleberry foliage and white flowers and the bride's table covered with an imported grass linen cloth, had wide satin bands which terminated in large loops at the edge and was

LOSES 30 LBS. 6 Inches at Waistline

Mrs. C. S. Bingham, 319 Grand Ave., Dayton, Ohio writes: "Since starting with Rennie I have lost 30 lbs. I also have lost 6 inches from around my waist and hips."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain liquid Rennie at your druggist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoonsfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennie.

Berra's Bat Still Sparking Yankees' Pennant Drive

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Larry (Yogi) Berra's ability to fill the departed Joe DiMaggio's shoes is the big reason why the New York Yankees are winging their way to their fourth successive American League pennant.

The slugging catcher, off to a ragged start due to a hand injury, has been hotter than 100 degrees in the dugout during the past two weeks. As a result, the Yankees have swept past both Cleveland and the Boston Red Sox into first place.

In the last 14 games, Berra has hammered 10 home runs, driven in 20 of his team's 68 runs and personally accounted for eight of their nine victories. That's reminiscent of DiMaggio at his best.

It was a four-bagger by Berra Sunday that snapped a six-inning scoreless duel between Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox and Bob Kuzava of the Yankees and gave him the home run leadership of the league at 14.

THE YANKEES went on to win the opener, 3-0. They lost the second, 2-1, but retained their two-game lead when the fourth place Indians swept a twin bill from the Red Sox, 7-0 and 5-4.

The split also proved a boon to the White Sox, who jumped into second place, a half game in front of the Red Sox and Indians.

The second half of the American League remained unchanged as all four teams divided doubleheaders.

The Washington Senators jumped off to an 8-5 first game victory but the St. Louis Browns came back with a 3-2 win. Detroit took a hard-fought 12-inning 4-3 decision from Philadelphia but the Athletics bounced back with a 9-0 triumph.

Rain cut the National League activity in half, forcing postponement of the scheduled doubleheader between Chicago and the Giants in New York and the single affair in Brooklyn between Pittsburgh and the Dodgers.

Airtight hurling by southpaws Al Brazie and Harry Brecheen gave the St. Louis Cardinals a pair of 7-2 victories over the Boston Braves while Cincinnati and Philadelphia split. The Reds copped the opener, 5-3, and the Phillies prevailed, 3-0, in the nightcap.

BLANKED by Kuzava with two singles in the opener, the White Sox regained their winning ways in the second game when Marv Grissom outpitched the Yankees' Bill Miller.

Eddie Robinson's two-out single in the eighth followed by Sherm Lollar's run-scoring double, broke a 1-1 tie and gave Chicago its 13th victory in the last 17 games.

Steve Gromek hurled a two-hit shutout for the Indians over Boston in the first game of their twin bill. A 48-minute delay because of rain caused Gromek's shoulder to tighten and Mickey Harris finished his shutout with a scoreless ninth inning.

Sugar Ray's Bold Try Due Tonight

NEW YORK, June 23 — (P)—On the downhill side of one of the most brilliant careers in the history of boxing, Sugar Ray Robinson steps up in class Monday night against Light Heavyweight Champion Joey Maxim in a bold try for a third world title.

The sleek, clever, power-punching middleweight king was rated an even money choice to overcome a 15 or 16-pound weight handicap and join Ruby Bob Fitzsimmons (middleweight, heavyweight, light heavyweight) and hammerin' Henry Armstrong, feather, light, welter in the ultra-exclusive ranks of three-division rulers.

"I'm not what I used to be but I still think I can win this one," said the dapper, 31-year-old Robinson as he waited out the hours for his 9 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) 15-rounder in Yankee Stadium. "I'll be in there punching and trying for a knockout."

"If anyone is going to score any knockouts, it's going to be me," snorted Maxim. "Charles and Walcott never even floored me, so what's he going to knock me out with? I'll belt him out."

The handsome, 30-year-old Cleveland doesn't like Sugar Ray and he doesn't care who knows it. He'd like nothing better than to be the first man ever to flatten the world-famed Harlemite.

Central Ohio Open Medal Play Begins

COLUMBUS, June 23 — (P)—The cream of Central Ohio professional and amateur golfers began medal play here Monday in the annual district open golf tournament.

Alex Poli of Army Country Club is defending champion. He, Dow Finsterwald of Athes, and Mel Carpenter of Harbor Hills were listed as the professionals to beat.

It was also voted at the meeting to have an open season on Hungarian partridges. This has been a closed season for the past three years.

After the meeting Patrick showed a color film on the life and habitat of wild animals.

Harness driver Harry Miller scored five victories in one night recently at Lebanon Raceway, Lebanon, O. He is the first driver to accomplish that feat this year.

Steubenville Rehearing Refused

STEUBENVILLE, June 23 — (P)—The state board of the Ohio High School Athletic Association has refused to rehear the appeal of Steubenville high school from probation in athletics.

Albert C. May, Steubenville principal, said he planned no further action.

Steubenville was placed on probation for the entire 1952-53 school year as a result of a near riot after the Steubenville-Wellsville basketball game March 8. Wellsville was placed on probation through the basketball season.

May made public a letter from W. J. McConnell, assistant state high school athletic commissioner, denying the request for a rehearing. He offered, however, to let May address the board July 18 at a meeting at Cedar Point. May declined.

The request for a rehearing was based on what Steubenville called "new evidence." The evidence was answers to queries sent 20 officials who had worked Steubenville games and officials of 10 opponent schools. May said practically all the 20 officials said the conduct of the Steubenville team was "above reproach."

McConnell said five of the six board members had studied the evidence and decided unanimously the evidence does not warrant a new hearing.

Olympic Aspirants Prime For Trials

LOS ANGELES, June 23 — (P)—The national track and field scene shifted to Los Angeles Monday as the country's greatest Olympic games hopes get ready for the big push in the final trials for the U. S. team Friday and Saturday.

Approximately 200 performers have qualified for the trials and in the two-day squeeze the field will be cut from a maximum of 13 candidates in each of the 17 Olympic events to a mere three.

This field of 200 finalists includes the survivors of eliminations in the National Collegiate championships, the All-Service meet, and the National AAU championships which wound up at nearby Long Beach Saturday.

Defending Champs In Tennis Finals

CLEVELAND, June 23 — (P)—Defending champions Bob Malaga and Paul Massey meet Harper Ink and Bob Niehouse in the doubles finals of the University Club Invitational tennis matches Wednesday.

Malaga and Massey defeated Paul Atkinson of Akron and Dick McFarland of Canton 6-1, 6-2, 6-2 in Sunday's semifinal matches.

Hamilton, Harbert Join Top List in PGA Quarterfinal

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 23 — (P)—Bob Hamilton, carefree and cocky, moved solidly into the PGA title picture Monday with a razor-sharp game that he expected would "hold up all the way."

The hard-hitting Hoosier, the only former PGA champ left in the quarterfinal field, assured all comers he was very much in the mood to repeat in the manner that astounded Byron Nelson in 1944.

Hamilton and Chick Harbert from Northville, Mich., were the hottest shooters in Sunday's third round.

They survived with one-sided victories and joined these other prime stroke masters in the quarterfinal lineup:

FRED HAAS Jr., a pro circuit regular from New Orleans; Frank Champ, a driving range pro from Houston; Clarence Doser, from Hartsdale, N. Y.; Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist; Jim Turnesa, from Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., and Ted Kroll, another sharp-shooting New Yorker from New Hartford.

In Monday's 36-hole matches over the 6,620-yard Big Spring Course, it was Hamilton against Champ, Harbert against Haas, Doser, against Turnesa and Middlecoff against Kroll.

Hamilton was at his peak Sunday as he plastered the veteran Vic Ghezzi from Inwood, Long Island, 9 and 8, the most one-sided margin of the 1952 tournament.

Casting Tourney

BARBERTON, June 23 — (P)—Joe Masa of Barberton won the All-Around crown Sunday in the Ohio State Amateur casting tournament. Tom Sibia of Massillon and Nick Simich of Akron tied for the all-bait accuracy title. Thayer Allison of East Liverpool won the wet fly weight event.

The Washington Redskins of the NFL have played only one scoreless tie in their history. That was against the New York Giants on Oct. 1, 1939.

Two Softball Games Set Monday Night

With the Buck & Red team from Greenfield out of the Fast League, the headmen today were scurrying around trying to find a team to take its place.

And, both Fred Pierson and Max Lawrence were optimistic. The managers of the softball show here this summer expressed confidence that there would be a replacement before long. But they mentioned no names.

Meanwhile, Monday night's program has been filled out with the playoff of a postponed game. Armco and the DP&L outfits will meet in the curtain raiser at 7:15 on schedule. The second game, however, will bring together the Frenchmen and Rockers instead of the now disbanded Buck & Red outfit and the Rockers.

Only one thing could upset the plans for Monday night program—that's the weather. With the sun shining intermittently through the clouds, the diamond was "let to play on" at mid-day, Pierson said.

Dick Savitt Opens Defense Of Title

WIMBLEDON, England, June 23 — (P)—Strapping Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., opened the defense of his Wimbledon tennis championship Monday against a field that includes all of the top ranking players from the four corners of the earth.

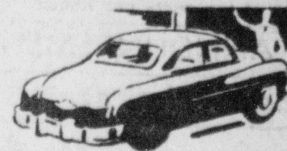

Dick aims at becoming the first player since the war to win the men's title two years in a row, and thereby take some of the sting out of his failure to be chosen to play in the challenge round after being named on the American Davis Cup team last year.

Suspension Lifted

TOLEDO, June 23 — (P)—The Toledo Boxing Commission has lifted its suspension of welterweight Chico Vejar, of Stamford, Conn. Vejar's manager, Steve Ellis, agreed Sunday night to give Promoter Sid Goldberg of the Mercury Athletic Club first call on the fighter's services after his match with Chuck Davey in Detroit Wednesday.

WHEN YOU TRY POWER STEERING...

HERE'S WHERE TO COME FIRST!

You've heard about it and read about it. Now, if you haven't felt what Power Steering does for you in city driving or out on the highway, we invite you to try it first in a Chrysler New Yorker . . . where you will find full-time (not partial) Power Steering!

What happens is this . . .

You handle the steering wheel in normal fashion. But 4/5 of all the work is done for you by hydraulic power, constantly at your command. Also, you turn the wheel 1/3 less distance now for every maneuver . . . the feeling you get of utter control is as wonderful as it is new.

Even at a standstill you can turn the wheel easily. Now, parking is shorn of its troubles (and fatigue!) . . . and you can negotiate traffic, awkward drives, and garage doors precisely and with ease.

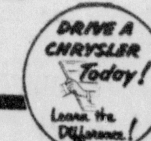

You can double the longest day's drive you've ever known . . . end up free from arm and shoulder strain. Rough roads, soft shoulders, snow, mud? . . . the power that helps you steer now prevents the car's wheels from "steering back" at you. The course you set is held, at any speed, till you want it changed. Yet, with this 5-times greater control, "wheel feel" is always the same.

Why not come try it? Learn for yourself why growing thousands of motorists say they'll never be without Full-time Power Steering from now on!

Oldsters Club Has Big Plans

60 Years Or Older Is Requirement

By MARGARET PRICE

ATLANTA—A sweet little lady won a blue ribbon for a silk quilt a few months ago and this indirectly began a club movement for women "three score and over."

Such a club had long been a dream of Mrs. William Guy Smith, president of the Fifth District, Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, but it took the blue ribbon to push the dream to reality.

Last fall she suggested that a neighbor, Mrs. W. L. Lyon a spry 89, enter some of her needlework in a contest at the Southern Eastern Fair in Atlanta.

Mrs. Lyon protested that her work wasn't nearly good enough but Mrs. Smith finally persuaded her to enter. Mrs. Lyon sailed through the first judging, winning first prize for her lovely quilt and, eventually, the blue ribbon grand prize for the entire contest.

To Mrs. Lyon, who had sometimes felt, well, a little left out of life, it was wonderful. Her son said she quickly used up the prize money calling all her out of town relatives to tell them the news.

SEEING what a bit of recognition could do and knowing there are thousands of older women who felt left too much to their knitting, Mrs. Smith decided to take time in her busy life to found a club for women past 60.

She knew there are clubs for such age groups elsewhere but hoped the one in Atlanta would be different in that from it would spring a network across the nation affiliated with the National Federation of Women's Clubs.

Volumes have been written in recent years about the aged, a steadily growing group. There have been efforts to meet their special problems but most social workers agree the efforts have been pitifully inadequate.

Mrs. Smith felt that what little has been accomplished stemmed from individuals who decided to help in their own small way.

So she called some older women she knew and helped them found the "three score and over" club. Twenty charter members attended the first meeting. None was under 70 and nearly half were in their eighties. Some were driven to the meeting at the home of one member by their mothers, who were finding new interests.

OTHERS like Mrs. S. R. Dull, 88, author of "Southern Cooking," a book widely used by housewives for years, came on busses.

Mrs. J. C. Mellichamp, also 88, was elected president and promptly set the tone of the meeting with the thought, "You are not old until regrets take the place of dreams." Another member suggested the group consider as a motto, "Not add years to our lives but life to our years."

The club has held the first two of its monthly meetings now and the list of those interested in joining has grown so fast other local clubs may be formed. The women plan to take turns discussing hobbies and are considering presentation of some sort of "play-let."

Some of the women are wealthy, others are not. Some suffer from such complaints as arthritis, others are as active as their grandchildren. The women soon will have to consider whether to admit one applicant who called Mrs. Smith to say, "I am not yet 60 but I would like to join the club. I want to learn how those women reached that age. And surely anyone who has lived that long has much to teach us."

NEWS VIEWS

By RAY BRANDENBURG

WE'LL stand by for the usual quota of patriotic oratory. There's nothing an orator likes more than a Fourth of July speech . . . especially at a picnic. He knows a picnic crowd isn't going to be fretting about getting away to eat. They've got the sandwiches and pickles with them, and they are ready to settle back and listen to the golden-voiced spellbinder as he runs through his verbal fireworks. Best of all, he's on a safe topic, and he can pull out all the stops as he sings the praises of America. Well, it's Uncle Sam's birthday . . . and a great day for us all. And may there be many more of them.

I don't remember a Spring where the weather has been any more favorable for the farmers and the fine crops in Fayette and surrounding counties are proof that Mother Nature knows her stuff. The wheat and hay never looked better, corn is growing so fast that my dad used to say, "you can hear it pop these warm nights." Sam Marting reports a yield of one hundred bushels per acre on barley. That's what Herefords do toward building up a farm.

I was down at the farm helping with the hay last week and I wasn't opening gates as some good friend inferred. It's a quite different job with pick-up baler elevators, etc., but it's still work.

A fellow in Glasgow, Scotland, tried 51 remedies before he finally got rid of his hicups by taking a glass of hot mustard and cold water. And for a while he probably wished he had the hicups back.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

County To Buy Communication Equipment

Radio Units For Sheriff and County Engineer Sought

After considerable discussion seeking information details from Fred Christopherson, a representative of Motorola Inc., the Fayette County Board of Commissioners decided at their Monday morning regular meeting to make a contract at a later date for transmission and receiving radio communication units for the offices and cars of the sheriff and county engineer here.

Before the final purchase and installation of this communication equipment, necessary legal steps are to be taken regarding a contract on which bids will be asked. It is estimated the entire cost probably will be less than $5000. It is planned to install units in two cars of the sheriff in addition to one unit, known as a land station, in his office. The same thing will be done in connection with the county engineer's office and cars.

ESTIMATES OF communication costs which these two offices have undergone annually on official business, indicates that the installation of county owned equipment will prove a large saving, it was said.

Similar communication equipment is now being used by many cities and counties in Ohio and permits quick exchange of information and questions between officials and office staffs and with other counties and cities.

The contract for the Shepherd joint county ditch in Madison Township, was awarded Monday morning by the commissioners of Fayette and Madison Counties.

FOLLOWING OPENING of the bid received the work was awarded to James E. Gilmore, an experienced ditch contractor, of Concord Township, at his bid of $528.15 of which $248.15 was for material and $280 for labor. The engineer's estimate for the job was $531.07.

There is to be work on about 400 feet of the ditch in Paint Township including approximately 347 feet of new tile.

The county commissioners spent a considerable amount of time Monday in checking sheep claims against the county's dog funds.

WHS Band Set For Open House

Brief Dedication For Its Own Home

The people who watch and listen with such pride to the Washington C. H. High School band on the football field, in concerts and in parades are going to get a chance to see the new band room in the high school building—the room the nearly 200 boys and girls of the band call home—Monday (tonight) from 8 P. M. until 9:30 P. M.

The occasion is to be an open house which is to be featured by a brief dedication ceremony.

Although the band room has been in use regularly ever since last fall, the finishing touches have only recently been completed. There also was an open house several months ago, but that was before everything had been done.

This open house is to be informal in spite of the formal dedication, Supt. Stephen Brown said.

The primary purpose, Bandmaster William B. Clift, Jr., said was to give the people who have been so loyal to the band a chance to see the surroundings in which it practices and carries on its other activities.

PUNCH AND cookies are to be served in the court just outside the Paint Street entrance to the band room during the evening to add to the festive and sociable atmosphere of the occasion.

Mothers of the band members provided the cookies. The band, with some help by outsiders, was responsible for the punch. If the weather fouls up the evening, the social center will be moved indoors, Supt. Brown said.

Although this is the summer vacation for the pupils, the band still has its activities that go on virtually around the calendar.

Tuesday at 6:30 P. M., the junior band is to meet in the band room for an hour of practice. As soon as the juniors leave, the Varsity band is to come in for its practice period, starting at 7:30 P. M.

The Varsity band's practice is to prepare for its next public appearance at the Fair here the last full week in July.

Clift said word has been sent to the senior band members who were graduated last May 26, to return their uniforms "as soon as possible." Nine of them have been brought back, he said, but added that there are still 14 to be returned.

Clift explained that he was anxious to get the uniforms back because they are needed for the boys and girls who will take the places of the graduated seniors. That in itself is not so complicated, he said, but since they are for growing youths, there always had to be some changing of uniforms throughout virtually the entire band membership to get fits. And, incidentally, everyone is pretty particular about a good fit—that's part of the snappy appearance of the band.

Light reaches the earth from the sun in a little over eight minutes.

Four Here Injured In Four-car Wreck

Four Washington C. H. residents were painfully, but not seriously injured on route 56 east of Laurelville, Sunday evening, while returning from a visit to the Hocking County caves when their car was involved in a four-car wreck.

Those injured are Glenn Jett owner of the car; Miss Christine Switzer, Miss Alice Davis and Mrs. Wayne Spengler.

Shaken up, but not hurt were Shiria Carter and David Thomas, of Washington C. H., who were also passengers in the Jett car.

Jett sustained knee and chest injuries; Miss Switzer sustained a badly sprained right ankle and bruises; Miss Davis, back injuries and bruises and Mrs. Spengler, bruises.

The accident occurred during a severe rainstorm and at a point where water was flowing across the road a foot or more in depth.

The driver of the lead car Charles Rolland, Circleville, stopped suddenly when he thought a culvert had washed out.

The Jett car skidded into a car which was following the lead car. The second was driven by Eugene Bush of Washington C. H.

The Jett car drove the Bush car into the Rolland car, and in turn the Jett car was struck in the rear by a car driven by Dwight Spengler of Bloomington.

State Highway Patrolman Gene Miller checked the accident.

Bowling Meeting Is Monday Night

The Washington C. H. Bowling Association is to hold its annual election of officers and dispose of other business at a meeting Monday (tonight) at 7:30 P. M. at Bowland.

The meeting was called by Carl Noon, the president of the association.

Notices have been sent to all of last season's officers and captains of the league teams by Richard Witherspoon, the secretary. However, he emphasized that "this is not a closed meeting... anyone is welcome."

There was no intimation of what business would come before the meeting, but indications were that at least part of it would have to do with laying the groundwork for next fall's resumption of league bowling.

Lightning has struck the Empire State Building in New York City as many as 12 times in 20 minutes without doing damage.

Bible School Ends Activities

Pupils Present Closing Program

Pupils of the First Presbyterian Church's vacation Bible School held their closing exercises before an audience of parents and friends Sunday night.

Congregating at the church, all of the more than 80 children who were enrolled at the school during its two-week period took part in the program of songs and recitations.

The high spot of the evening was when approximately 50 of the preschool aged youngsters sang "Jesus Loves Me," "The Boy Jesus," and "This Little Light of Mine."

The primary group rendered two songs, "God Keeps His Promises" and "The Happy Day Express." Recitations were given by the students in the junior group who also sang three songs during their portion of the program.

The intermediate group presented the "Story of David" in pictures they placed on a flannelgraph and sang "I Would Be True" and "Bring Them In."

They also closed the program with a recitation in unison of the books of the New Testament.

AFTER the benediction by Rev. Harold J. Braden, refreshments were served by the men's class with George Robinson and John Bailey as co-chairmen.

A display in the rear of the church showed the handicraft the children had prepared during the Bible School.

Mrs. Clark Pensyl was superintendent of the school. The faculty included the following:

Pre-school: Mrs. William Heinz and Mrs. Harry Townsend, co-chairmen; Mrs. John Bath, Mrs. Sam Athey, Mrs. Jane Himmler, Mrs. Ralph Hyer, Mrs. Robert Popen, Mrs. James Wilson, Carolyn and Shirley Beatty, Linda Brown, Mary Lou Biehn, and Rosy Rost, assistants.
